PROFILE

Creative digital marketing specialist with hands-on experience in social media campaigns, short-form video production and entertainment marketing. I combine campaign planning, content creation and audience understanding with a strong interest in music, film and youth culture. Through my work with Sony Music and Finnkino, I have produced TikTok and Instagram content, contributed to successful campaigns and built experience in customer-facing brand environments. My goal is to grow in social media and marketing as part of a creative marketing team, while creating successful campaigns and strengthening brands.

EXPERIENCE
